Our Prez Says

I always look forward to the Sept. meeting, as it is our first meeting after the summer break. We had a great turn out, and those that came were not disappointed. Linda Simpson gave a presentation on the Summer Kid's Camp. We enjoyed seeing some of the projects the Jr. Rockers made, and also watched as they were awarded the badges that they earned during the week of camp. Jacob White also gave a presentation on the summer camp to earn a Scout award. He did an outstanding job!

Alan Castello will join us for the Oct. meeting and have a presentation on climate induced sea level changes along the gulf coast and why we find certain fossils in this area.

Gold is the color for the October meeting. Bring any gold colored minerals you would like to display on the "It Certainly Is Exquisite, but What the Dickens is It", table.

Also a special prize for the best "Gold" outfit will be given. See you Tuesday Oct. 16th!

Joe

Birthstone - Traditional

*October's child is born for war,

Birthstone for October - Opal

Opal

October Birthstone : Opal

Birthstone Color: Multi-colored

October's birthstone treats the eye to an explosion of shimmering colors, not unlike those of a magnificent rainbow following a summer rain. The Opal derives its name from the Latin word "opalus," meaning precious jewel. Prized for its unique ability to refract and reflect specific wavelengths of light, the Opal was called "Cupid Paederos" by the Romans, meaning a child beautiful as love. One legendary explanation for this gemstone's origin is that it fell from heaven in a flash of fiery lightning.

Ancient monarchs treasured Opals, both for their beauty and for their presumed protective powers. They were set into crowns and worn in necklaces to ward off evil and to protect the eyesight. These gemstones were also ground and ingested for their healing properties and to ward off nightmares.

The Opal dates back to prehistoric times. It is a non-crystallized silica, which is a mineral found near the earth's surface in areas where ancient geothermal hot springs once existed. As the hot springs dried up, layers of the silica, combined with water, were deposited into the cracks and cavities of the bedrock, forming Opal. This gemstone actually contains up to 30% water, so it must be protected from heat or harsh chemicals, both of which will cause drying and may lead to cracking and loss of iridescence. Opal must also be guarded from blows, since it is relatively soft and breaks easily.

Most of the world's Opal deposits are found in Southern Australia. Other sources of this gemstone are Brazil, Mexico, Czechoslovakia and Nevada. Quality Opal is very expensive, made more so by the caution that must be exercised in cutting, polishing and setting it into jewelry.

A gift of Opal is symbolic of faithfulness and confidence. And the powerful energy radiating from this fiery gemstone will surely illuminate any occasion!

Alternate Birthstone

An alternate birthstone for October, Pink Tourmaline has the seemingly magical property of pyroelectricity. Scientifically speaking, this means that when heated, the gem takes on a static electric charge, making it capable of attracting lightweight objects. No wonder this gemstone was revered for its mystical properties centuries ago! Considered the "stone of the muse," it was believed to stimulate the creative process of its wearer. Pink varieties of Tourmaline range in color from pastel pink to ruby red and are mined in Brazil, Afghanistan, Burma, and India. A gift of this stone is symbolic of hope.

So you've identified these as teeth. That's a start. Now what could they belong to? Collected from rocks of Eocene age in Pakistan, this fossil skull is from a critter that is the earliest known of its kind. Do you know what it is?

Did you guess correctly?

Useful Tool

from the Shawnee Slate October 2007 by Kenneth Sheldon

I have used this tool for busting shale and clay while digging for geodes in Missouri, on quartz and rock while digging for quartz crystals in Arkansas, on rock and clay while digging for Big Diggins Agate in New Mexico, and on hard lime stone digging for Teepee Agate in South Dakota.

It's made from a trailer house axle leaf spring; make sure to use the heavy single spring type. First cut the two eyes off and then cut the spring in half. Sharpen the two ends on the inside of the curve to a low angle.

The spring is heavy enough you can use a small hammer or a large slate hammer. I especially like it because it's wide enough that you can stand on it with one foot and hit a ledge hammer to get it started in a crack.

PLEASE USE SAFETY GLASSES AND GLOVES WHILE USING THIS TOOL!
